

Once upon a time...

There were grey organisations who were desperately looking for that one special thing that was going to breathe life into their organisation and provide its employees with excitement. Then one day, along came a Jungle Ranger and introduced these grey organisations to the world of colour through the Insights Discovery Tool® and suddenly, these organisations were transported on an exciting journey of colour!

Let the adventure begin...

Leading and Managing in times of change

We know for a fact that change is a constant, and it's almost never easy. Using the Insights Discovery model, leaders and manager can recognise the stages of an individual's response to change as well as their own. They will learn and develop techniques and skills to effectively support colleagues and reports through these stages.

Ongoing Commitment

This is not the end of the journey... but just a pause for breath.

Colour Critique

Jungle offer a colour critique solution. After completing the Insights Discovery on-line evaluator individuals are provided with their own comprehensive 18 page foundation chapter Insights Discovery profile. This profile is fully debriefed by an accredited Insights Jungle Ranger via a 60-minute telephone colour critique session.

Team and Company Culture

Executive Boards set the tone for the company culture This session will enable individuals to consider the impact that their collective energy preferences can have on the organisational culture and brand.

Insights Discovery Personal Effectiveness Workshop

Jungle deliver either a half or full day Insights Discovery Personal Effectiveness Workshop. Delegates are introduced to the Insights Discovery tool, Delegates will leave with an enhanced knowledge of their own strengths, as well as an understanding of the strengths of the team, equally where there are gaps and blind spots.

We would also recommend that all individuals receive a one hour 1:1 colour critique session after the team effectiveness workshop to fully de-brief their Insights Discovery profile as well as providing a safe, focused space where individuals can honestly assess where they are, and consider what they need to achieve their goals.

Team Dynamics - performing under pressure

The objective of this session is to understand what people with different colour energies may go through when stressed and performing under pressure; how to spot the signs (in self and others) and identify the remedies to get back on track and operating at the optimum level.

Coaching through Colour

When we embark upon coaching conversations it is important that as the Coach, the style, tonality, pace and questioning techniques used during a coaching session are adapted to reflect the person who is being coached and are not just delivered in the style of the coach. This session therefore helps managers to know how to coach through colour so that individuals achieve optimum personal growth.

Relationship Building

Due to the fast pace of nature of the world we live in, we are often keen to (or need to!) move straight into action without really taking the time to build a relationship (and then wonder why things don't quite turn out as we had hoped). Yet, when relationships are formed, greater results are often achieved. Our Stakeholder relationship building learning solution will help you to use the energy colours to strengthen and build effective relationships.

Decision Making

Decision making through utilisation of the Insights Discovery tool is really powerful. In particular, we help Executive Boards and leadership teams to understand how they're currently making their decisions, the impact of these, in particular the strength of the decisions made and the stretch areas of the decisions, i.e., blind spots.

Colour Communication

This workshop helps teams to consider how they effectively communicate with each other what they need to do to adapt their style to improve communication with other stakeholders. Delegates will use their Insights Discovery Personal Profile and learn the art of colourful communication.

Motivating through Colour

Understanding the drivers and motivators of individuals can be complex however we introduce you to the Insights colour energies/eight types to help Leaders and Managers under the motivator and blockers for each energy preference thereby equipping managers and leaders to motivate through colour and improve engagement and performance.

Influencing & the Power of Persuasion

There are numerous occasions, throughout the course of our normal daily lives when we need to influence others. Whether it be to ask someone to help us with something, to get buy-into a new idea and/or change another person's perspective.

It would be all too easy to try and influence them in a way that resonates with ourselves, and whilst its likely to have an effect (positive or negative!) if you really want to influence with impact then understanding and adapting your communication and impact using the colour energies will a positive effect. Using the G-Lead model leaders and managers will learn how to adapt and connect with each of the four colour energies with regards to how to communicate effectively (and not to) with them and influencing the different colour energies effectively.

But this is only just the beginning, there's so much more to the exciting world of colour!
